Mission

The FMCC members are recognized as the go-to resource for expertise and support to enhance the facility management profession by enabling facility managers to be successful in their FM endeavors.

Vision

Connect Facility Managers with the professional expertise of the FMCC members to provide guidance and deliver valuable solutions resulting in an increase awareness of the value of consultants.

Sponsors

Share your expertise

One of the initiatives on the FMCC BSC is to assist our members in creating more exposure in order to learn from each other and to develop additional clients and build valuable relationships with those clients. A great example of that additional exposure can be obtained by stepping out there and letting others know what you know. Two ways in which this can be accomplished is to contribute ideas and resources in the ENGAGE Community conversations on the IFMA website and in the Ask the Expert section of the FM Journal. The next time you are contacted by Mark Sekula to respond to a question for the Ask the Expert article in the FMJ, please take the time to share your expertise. Let others know that you truly are an expert in the subject.

FMCC Sponsorship Program

Sponsorships to support the operations of the FMCC are always needed. A sponsor can gain valuable exposure. Think about how many times an FMCC member recommends a certain service provider, FM software solution or other product. Being a sponsor can give them connections to many decision makers. Please consider being a sponsor or asking some of your contacts to consider it. To learn more about our sponsorship program, contact our Sponsorship Chair – Val Moraes at Val.Moraes@gregmoregroup.com

Sharing as FMCC Volunteers Leads to Consulting Success

Global Facility Management Alliance (GFMA) roots lie in the world's biggest FM organization –GFMA founders (Stephen Brown, Markus Groll and David Reynolds) are members of IFMA and IFMA FM Consultations Council. In 2013 the IFMA FMCC Board established the STAG (Strategic and Tactical Action Group), where they were and still are intensively working together in the fields "Membership, Professional Development and Marketing". As an acknowledgment for their volunteering, the council achieved the "Council of the Year Award" and "Council Award for Programs & Professional Development" in 2015.

But the greatest benefit was the unwavering confidence and belief in each other derived from their collaborative volunteer efforts. That is what motivated them to pool their knowledge and expertise in a new business venture – GFMA. To learn more, visit GFMA's website at www.globalfma.net
